ABOUT AIPEC

The AIPEC program is a work payback program funded by the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Education. For every month on the program, participants must work one month in a school with a high proportion of American Indian students.

Participants in this program will be eligible for funding to assist with the costs of obtaining an education degree at Northeastern State University. In addition, each participant will receive professional development training on the culture specific needs of American Indian students.

Eligibility

- Must be an American Indian or Alaskan Native member of a federal or state recognized tribe
- Must be admitted into the Teacher Education program at NSU's College of Education
- Must have a 2.75 GPA or higher
- Must be willing to remain active and participate in all required activities

AIPEC Goal

To increase the number of qualified Indian teachers committed to employment in schools with enrollments of a high proportion of American Indian students.

AIRC Mission

To develop culturally appropriate resources to meet the needs of American Indian Communities.
